Hines then called upon BOT member Curt Miller, who spoke on the possibility of adding the penalty of taking a school out of the playoffs for using an ineligible player or falsifying transfer documents. After much discussion, the BOT directed GHSA Counsel Alan Connell to work on the wording for such a proposal to be presented at a future meeting.

Hines then asked several sports coordinators to give updates on their individual sports.

Ernie Yarbrough told the committee that the Final Four Softball tournament in Columbus was highly successful, but that there were plans to return to an Elite Eight format next fall, if possible. Yarbrough then urged the BOT members to implore their respective schools to follow the GHSA rules modifications for the Basketball season that has just begun.

Don Corr then gave a recap of the recent Volleyball finals, saying how well the new venue was received and stating that he hopes to return to that facility again next year. He then spoke of the COVID-19 rules modifications for the current Wrestling season.

Kevin Giddens then praised the staff at Carrollton High School for the recent state Cross Country finals, and said that certain Covid modifications, like a staggered starting line and photo-friendly awards ceremonies, would likely carry over even after the pandemic.

Penny Pitts Mitchell said that the Cheerleading season was going well with smaller tournaments being the norm, and mentioned that the GameDay finals would be held at Carrollton HS at the indoor football practice facility there.

Tanya Anderson spoke of the Esports virtual finals on December 16-17 and mentioned the excitement surrounding the addition of two sports games for the Spring 2021 season.
