

Dr. Tim Scott speaks...

As Executive Director of the Georgia High School Association, I am incredibly proud to recognize and celebrate the accomplishments of our 2026 Winter State Champions.

Each of these teams and student-athletes has demonstrated what education-based athletics is all about—commitment, perseverance, teamwork, and character. Their success is not only measured by championships, but by the way they represent their schools, communities, and the values of the GHSA.

I would also like to thank the coaches, athletic directors, administrators, officials, and parents who play such an important role in supporting these young people. Your leadership and dedication help create opportunities for students to grow both on and off the field of play.

Finally, I want to express my appreciation to our host sites, event staff, and partners who worked tirelessly to ensure that each championship event was first-class. Your efforts do not go unnoticed.

Congratulations to all of our state champions. You have made your schools and communities proud, and you represent the very best of high school athletics in Georgia.

The Georgia High School Association proudly recognizes and congratulates the outstanding schools and student-athletes who earned 2026 State Championships!

These champions represent the very best of education-based athletics—demonstrating commitment, teamwork, perseverance, and excellence across the state of Georgia

Marist School Student-Athlete Named 2025-2026 Gatorade GHSA Girls Basketball POY

CHICAGO (March 13, 2026) — In its 41st year celebrating the nation's best high school athletes, Gatorade today announced Kate Harpring of Marist School is the 2025-26 Gatorade Georgia Girls

Basketball Player of the Year.

Gatorade Player of the Year is the top honor in high school sports, celebrating the nation's best high school athletes for their excellence in sport, academics and community. The award recognizes Harpring as Georgia's best high school girls basketball player, and she joins an elite legacy that spans professional athletes and coaches to CEOs, such as Candace Parker (2002-03 & 2003-04, Naperville Central High School, IL) Paige Bueckers (2020-21, Hopkins High School, MN) and Aaliyah Chavez (2024-25, Monterey High School, TX).

At the time of her selection, the 5-foot-11 senior guard had led the War Eagles to a 27-2 record and a berth in the Class 4A state championship game. Harpring averaged 29.5 points, 11.2 rebounds, 4.2 steals and 4.1 assists while shooting 62.0 percent from the floor through 29 games. The state's returning Gatorade Player of the Year, Harpring is one of five finalists for the Naismith Award.

Ranked as the No. 1 recruit in the Class of 2026 by 247Sports, she entered the state final with 3,394 points in her prep basketball career, five points shy of the state record.

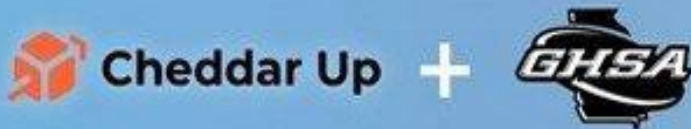

Harpring has volunteered locally with the Sandwich Project, which distributes meals to alleviate food insecurity in Atlanta, and she has donated her time to multiple community service initiatives through her church. "Kate Harpring is one of a kind," said Kevin Moore, head coach of St. Pius X High School. "She impacts the game in almost every way: scoring, facilitating, defending and leading. What makes her special isn't just her statistical production, but the consistency with which she influences the flow of the game."

Harpring has maintained an A-minus average in the classroom. She has signed a written letter of athletic aid to play basketball at the University of North Carolina this fall.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one state winner from each of the 50 states and Washington D.C., in 12 different sports: football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, baseball, softball, boys and girls soccer, and boys and girls track & field. In total, 610 high school athletes are honored each year. From the pool of state winners, one national winner is selected in each of the 12 sports. The selection process is administered by the Gatorade Player of the Year Selection Committee, which leverages experts including coaches, scouts, media and others as sources to help evaluate and determine the winners in each sport. As part of Gatorade's commitment to breaking down barriers in sport, every Player of the Year also receives a grant to donate to a social impact partner. To date, the Gatorade Player of the Year program has provided more than $6.4 million in grants to winners across more than 2,200 organizations.

To learn more about the Gatorade Player of the Year program, check out past winners or to nominate student-athletes, visit playeroftheyear.gatorade.com or follow us on social media on Instagram at instagram.com/Gatorade, Facebook at facebook.com/GatoradePOY and X(Twitter) at x.com/Gatorade.

One place to collect it all for your team

Concession Stand Ideas for Booster Clubs

Concession stands show up at almost every high school event: football games, track meets, school plays, weekend tournaments. If there's a crowd, someone is selling snacks nearby. It keeps people fed, gives parents a way to pitch in, and often brings in money for the program. It also gets chaotic fast.

Halftime hits and the line doubles. Someone hands you a twenty for a $3 item. Another person asks if you take Venmo. A volunteer is trying to keep orders straight while people keep adding to them.

It's fun, but without the right system in place, it can fall apart quickly.

Choosing the right concession stand menu

A good concession stand menu does more work than people think. When it works, people already know what they want before they reach the front.

If you're figuring out what to sell at a concession stand, start simple and build from there.

- Classics: hot dogs, popcorn, nachos, pretzels, plus candy, chips, and bottled drinks
- Crowd-pleasers: walking tacos, corn dogs, chicken tenders, pigs in a blanket, boiled peanuts, funnel cakes
- Seasonal favorites: lemonade, snow cones, cotton candy, or a hot chocolate station for colder games
- Grab-and-go: popcorn mixes, granola bars, trail mix, or baked chips
- Healthier options: fruit and veggie cups, pretzels with hummus, or yogurt parfaits

A few reminders to make things easier:

- Keep the list of options short so volunteers are not juggling too many items and you don't have waste at the end
- Put the menu where people can read it while they wait
- Be sure to clearly label anything that may have allergens or common dietary restrictions

You can add more later. What matters is keeping the line moving.

Concession stand pricing tips

Pricing can make a big difference in how smoothly your stand runs and how much you bring in. Keep prices simple and easy to read so customers can make quick decisions. Round numbers like $2, $3, or $5 help speed up transactions and reduce confusion during busy moments. Combo deals are another easy way to increase sales. Pairing items like a drink and snack at a slightly discounted price can encourage larger orders without slowing things down. Make sure your price list is clearly displayed so volunteers are not repeating prices and customers are not holding up the line asking questions.

Set up your stand for speed

A simple setup behind the stand makes a big difference. Use menu boards or chalkboards so people can decide before ordering, and keep price lists clear and easy to read.

Use shelving or tiered displays to organize candy and chips so everything is visible and easy to grab. If space is tight, rotating chip racks can help keep your counter clear.

Keeping your layout organized helps volunteers move faster and keeps lines from backing up. You do not need everything, but a few items can make things easier:

- Popcorn machine
- Hot dog roller or steamer
- Food warmers
- Griddle or grill
- Cooler for drinks
- Secure cash box

Additionally, have these items ready so nothing slows you down:

- Napkins, trays, cups, utensils
- Serving tools like tongs and scoops
- Condiments and foil

Simplifying concession stand logistics

Once the line builds, the issue is not the food; it's taking payments and tracking who paid.

Cheddar Up gives you one place to manage payments so you are not figuring things out during a rush. With Cheddar Up, you can:

- Take credit cards and track cash in the same place
- Use Tap to Pay on your phone
- Add a card reader for faster checkout

Multiple volunteers can take payments at the same time, which helps during peak moments. Share the event code with volunteers and they can start taking payments right away. You can spread people out instead of funneling everything through one person.

Customers can pay without downloading anything or creating an account, which keeps transactions quick and simple. And everything still ends up in one place, which makes closing out the night easier.

Pro Tip: Templates give you a starting point with a menu, payments, and even donations already set up. You can get everything live quickly and adjust as needed. Get started with this free concession stand template.

Keep volunteers organized

Getting volunteers together can be just as challenging as running the stand, especially when shifts overlap and people are coming and going throughout the event. When no one is quite sure who is covering what, things slow down fast and it puts more pressure on the people who are there.

Cheddar Up keeps everything in one place so shifts are clear and nothing gets missed. With it, you can:

- Set up shifts
- Collect contact info
- Send automated reminders

Assign simple roles like payments, food prep, and restocking so no one is trying to do everything at once. Shorter shifts also help keep volunteers engaged and on time.

Get started with this free concession stand volunteer sign up template.

Add simple themes and extras

Small touches can make your concession stand more memorable and bring more people in.

Think Friday night lights, a classic ballpark setup, or a carnival-style stand. Even small changes like naming combos or menu items can make the experience more engaging, like “Touchdown Tenders” or “Home Run Snacks”.

Here are a few easy ways to make your concession stand memorable:

- Banners and decor in school colors
- Balloon arches
- String lights for evening games
- Music with a small speaker

And if you have the space and extra volunteers, you can also offer items like sunscreen, bug spray, or team merch using the same setup.

Real groups, real results

A baseball little league used Cheddar Up to run concessions during a busy season.

They introduced $10 punch cards with a simple QR code at the stand. Families could pay by card, grab a punch card, and use it throughout the season. No cash needed, no extra equipment.

"We don't have a POS at concessions, so the punch cards let us offer card payments without needing extra tech. Families loved it." — Jennifer Ryan, Board Vice President, South Portland Little League

Exclusive GHSA Team plan, free for booster clubs

As the official payment partner of GHSA, Cheddar Up gives teams and booster clubs access to the Team plan at no cost. It includes unlimited items and forms, point-of-sale tools for concession stands, ticketing, a group website, and access for unlimited managers. You'll also get lower processing fees and advanced reporting tools to keep everything organized and easy to review.

Don't wait until the next game to get organized.

Whataburger Announces New Statewide Sponsorship with GHSA

Atlanta, GA (March 9, 2026) — Whataburger is proud to announce a new statewide sponsorship with Georgia High School Association (GHSA), the governing body for interscholastic athletics and activities for more than 457 public and private high schools across Georgia. The partnership officially tips off at the 2026 GHSA Basketball State Championships, taking place March 11–14 in Macon, Georgia, and will continue throughout the year at championship events and local activations statewide.

Through the partnership, Whataburger will support GHSA championship experiences for student athletes and their communities, including basketball, soccer, and football title events, along with select local game day activations and community-focused initiatives.

“At Whataburger, supporting student athletes is about more than the scoreboard. It’s about showing up for the moments that bring communities together,” Whataburger Brand Leader Shirley Belue and Made to Order Holdings President & COO Zack Kollias said in a joint statement. “For generations, Whataburger has been the after-game gathering place where teammates, families, and fans celebrate wins, regroup after tough losses, and make memories over hot, fresh food. Partnering with GHSA allows us to keep investing in Georgia schools, communities, and the young people who inspire us.”

As part of the sponsorship, Whataburger will connect with student athletes, families, and fans through championship event signage, in-game promotions, digital engagement, and on-site activations. The partnership will also explore special fundraising opportunities benefiting local schools, along with select high school football game day activations later in the year.

“The Georgia High School Association is proud to welcome Whataburger as a partner,” said Dr. Tim Scott, Executive Director of the GHSA. “The GHSA exists to provide student-athletes with opportunities to grow, compete, and represent their schools with pride. Partnerships like this allow us to elevate the championship experience while strengthening the connection between our schools and the communities that support them. We appreciate Whataburger’s commitment to investing in Georgia’s students and communities, and we look forward to building something meaningful together.”

GHSA Names AthletesGoLive Official Baseball and Softball Scoring App Partner

ALPHARETTA, GA (March 4, 2026) – The GHSA, the high school sports regulating body representing 465 schools across the state of Georgia, selected AthletesGoLive as the official scoring app partner of the state’s baseball and softball programs.

Effective immediately, Georgia high school baseball and softball teams will be encouraged to use AGL to score all 2026 games. By 2027, baseball teams will be required to score their season in the AGL app to support the state’s pitch count rule compliance.

“The GHSA is very excited to have AthletesGoLive as our new Baseball scoring partner. AGL will improve the scoring of games while integrating the appropriate information with PitchKount and MaxPreps. This will save coaches valuable time during their season,” said Don Corr, GHSA Associate Director.

AGL is a national scoring provider, specializing in the diamond sport industry. They provide teams and fans with free access to score and watch their athletes and teams compete live from anywhere. They also offer a variety of tools to support fundraising and recruiting efforts.

“AthletesGoLive is proud to partner with the GHSA to expand high-quality scoring access to high schools across Georgia,” said AGL Founder Andrew Biele. “This collaboration strengthens our shared commitment to supporting student-athletes, their families, and their coaches, and we look forward to demonstrating the meaningful impact our platform can make in communities across our home state.”

AGL is headquartered locally in Alpharetta and has worked with the GHSA on many of the state’s largest events for many years, including the coverage of the GHSA State Softball Championships, and the Southeastern High School Baseball Classic.

Rapidly expanding into the high school space in 2026, AthletesGoLive is now the official baseball and softball scoring partner of the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS), NFHS Network, and a preferred auto-sync partner of MaxPreps.

March was National Athletic Training Month

National Athletic Training Month (NATM) is held every March to raise awareness of athletic trainers, licensed health care professionals who prevent, diagnose and treat injuries and medical conditions. The 2026 tagline, chosen by members on social media, is "Care You Can Count On."

What is an Athletic Trainer?

Athletic trainers provide care in schools, colleges, workplaces, clinics and professional sports. They are trained in injury prevention, emergency care and rehabilitation and they work collaboratively with physicians and other health care professionals.

Athletic trainers are medical providers within the health care system and play a critical role in patient safety and injury prevention.
